Charities can shine from our expert advice

In these difficult times, charity management teams increasingly need the support of specialist financial advisers if they are to achieve their objectives. Our friendly and accessible experts are widely experienced in advising charities across a wide spectrum of financial areas, such as money management, business development, fund raising, and stewardship issues.

The burden of compliance on unincorporated charities has increased substantially following numerous changes to charities legislation. Our sector-focused advice means trustees can meet their legal obligations, while more effectively helping to achieve the charity's aims.

Our long and distinguished history in Wirral has enabled us to develop connections with many other professional advisers and institutions and we use these productive links to the benefit of all our clients.
